

HONEY LIQUEUR

A type of German Bärenfang (literally ‘bear trap’) honey liqueur, Bärenjäger (‘bear hunter’) is a delicious vodka-based liqueur that can be enjoyed either as a cocktail base, straight over ice, added to tea or a hot toddy - or even poured straight onto vanilla ice cream.

First brewed in Eastern Prussia during the 15th century, Bärenjäger became the first commercial brand of Bärenfang. Produced using Mexican nectar honey from the Yucatan province by Teucke & Koenig Bear Trap Company (today known simply as Teucke & Koenig), the Bärenjäger bottle features a beehive-shaped cap and an image of a fur trapper trapping a bear.
